

Please do weaken the Indiana Law regarding telemarketing. Allowing business to telemarket under the "established business relationship" umbrella will be bad for the consumers. The Indiana Law has established privacy for its residents. It is a good law. I recently moved from MN to IN. I can tell you, from experience, when those "established business relationships" are allowed to telemarket, the do not call list is useless. Those business take advantage of its customers and telemarket daily. Please do not sacrifice the privacy of your citizens to allow businesses to invade the privacy of our homes. Thank you.
